

Russians Fail in Try to Call Night UN Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin failed today in his efforts to call an emergency night session of the Security Council on the Congo. Angry Western delegates denounced the move by Zorin, the council president, as arbitrary.

The U.N. announced: "There will be no Security Council meeting tonight."

Zorin had sought the meeting for 8:30 p. m. EST. But Western members made known they did not consider the situation in the Congo as warranting such haste. They said they had not been consulted by Zorin, and charged him with abusing his powers as president.

Zorin handed the request for the meeting to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld in an attempt to get a full council airing immediately of the arrest and detention of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Hammarskjöld polled members of the 11-nation council and obviously did not find support for a night meeting.

Zorin circulated at U.N. headquarters a declaration demanding the immediate release of Lumumba, the disarming of the army directed by strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu and the expulsion of all Belgian civilian and military personnel in the Congo.

The United Arab Republic became the third member of the U.N. Congo conciliation commission to withdraw amid growing doubt that the Asian-African group would ever get to Leopoldville.

Guinea and Mali, two supporters of Lumumba, previously had withdrawn in protest against the decision of the General Assembly to send a delegation headed by Congo President Joseph Kasavubu.

A U.A.R. spokesman said his country's representative, Dr. Hassan El-Zayyat, had quit the 15-member commission because of alleged stalling by Kasavubu in giving the group the promised permission to visit the Congo.

The Mobutu government already had broken diplomatic relations with the U.A.R.

In another development, the United Nations published two cables from Guinea's President Sekou Toure to Hammarskjöld criticizing the U.N. attitude on the arrest and detention of Lumumba. One of the cables protested against what it called the "unimpaired indifference of the U.N. representative. The other said Guinea reserved all rights to support the Congolese people "within a purely African framework."

Says Kennedy's Program Costly

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—If all of President-elect John F. Kennedy's political program is enacted into law, the nation could face a serious economic depression, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said last night.

McClellan endorsed the Democratic presidential ticket prior to the Nov. 8 general election, but took a stand against parts of the party platform.

The Democratic spending program would boost the cost of government by $12 million to $15 million annually, McClellan told a dinner staged in his honor by the Young Businessmen's Association of Little Rock.

"It is not a cheerful or delightful thing to find yourself in disagreement with the leaders of your party," the Arkansas lawmaker said. The added cost of the proposed Democratic program would aggravate an already receding economy, McClellan said.

McClellan said.

French Okay Atom Force Measure

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle's controversial $12 billion atomic striking force bill finally was passed today by a reluctant National Assembly.

The bill became law after being twice rejected by the Senate and three times approved indirectly in the National Assembly because it was coupled with censure motions against the government.

This time the opposition raised 215 votes. A 277 absolute majority was needed to overthrow the government. On two previous readings the votes against the government were 207 and 214 respectively.

Under the Fifth Republic procedure, if the opposition seeks to censure the government over a bill, that piece of legislation is considered adopted when the censure fails.

Chief argument against the measure was that France could not afford it without crippling commitments to the Atlantic alliance. But De Gaulle wants his own nuclear striking force of planes and missiles for prestige and other reasons.

The bill emerges with the distinction of being the first law ever passed as a result of three negative votes.

Today's final ballot was almost an anticlimax. Many opposition deputies, who fought the striking force plan bitterly on its previous appearances before the house, gave up.

Voting for the censure were mainly Socialists and Radicals, along with some Christian Democrats, some Conservatives and the Republican Unity or (Algerian) party.

Unemployment Hike Expected to Continue

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Department said today a survey shows most employers expect a net decrease in job levels by mid-January.

The survey shows the increase of unemployment in the autumn months is expected to continue on into the winter. Christmas season hiring may slow the downward job trend temporarily.

Officials have indicated that the total for November, to be announced later this week, probably reached four million, highest figure for the month in two decades. They expect the total to climb to more than five million by January.

The survey made by the Labor Department's Employment Security Bureau is a regular one covering 150 major production and employment centers. The November figures show nine more such areas were added to the critical list, those having over 6 per cent unemployment.

This showed the number of such areas to 51 as compared with a total of 32 in November 1959 and 23 in November 1958, during the recession.

The gloomy job picture painted by the Employment Security Bureau said "more than nine-tenths of the surveyed areas expected a new decrease in job levels between mid-November and mid-January, with seasonal construction layoffs and postholiday drops in trade and government (Christmas-season post office workers) accounting for a major share of the decline."

The customary employment pickup did not materialize in some areas this fall and dropped below expectations in others, it was stated.

The nine new areas of substantial labor surplus are: Bridgeport and Waterbury, Conn.; South Bend, Fort Wayne and Gary-Hammond-East Chicago, Ind.; Spokane, Wash.; Hamilton-Middleton, Ohio; Steubenville, Ohio; Weirton, W. Va.; and San Bernardino-Riverside, Ontario, Calif.

Cutbacks in steel, aircraft, aluminum, and other durable goods manufacturing were mainly responsible, the bureau said.

Yule Parade Here at 7:30 Thursday

The annual Christmas Parade sponsored by Hope Retail Merchants and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

Theme of this year's parade, "The Birth of Christ," will be carried out by floats entered by the following:

First Baptist Church, Yarger High School, Rotary Club, Brookwood School, Kiwanis Club, Garland School and the Lions Club.

In addition to the floats the parade will feature Santa Claus' arrival, and three bands playing Yuletide music. Another attraction is the Christmas lights which have been erected.

Santa Claus will ride in a convertible furnished by the Jaycees. The parade will follow a new route, which will begin at the First Methodist Church and run straight up Second Street and end at Childs Food Store. Cars already parked will be removed after 6 p. m. to give ample room for the floats and crowd.

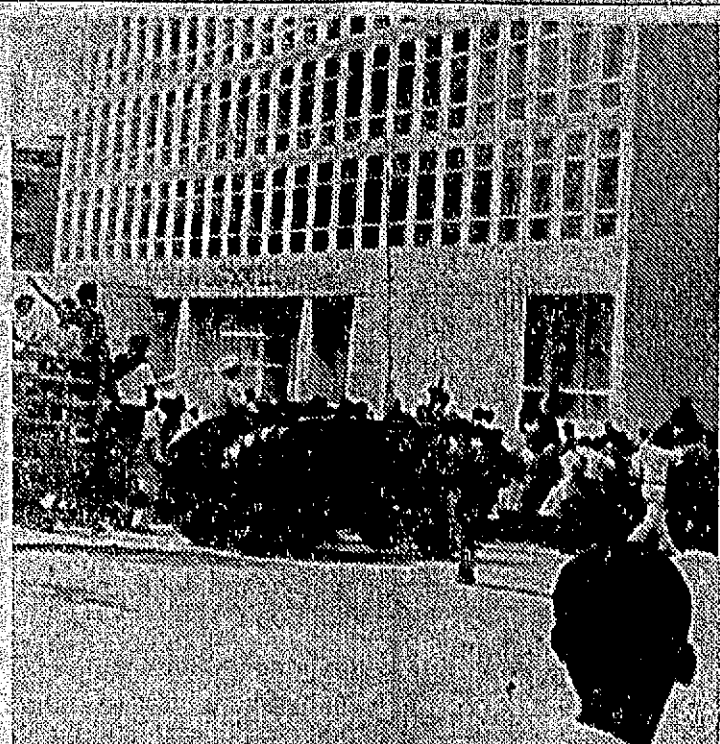

There will be Community Carol Singing held after the parade on Childs parking lot.

Bomber Training Crew Recognized

PORTSMOUTH, N.H. (AP)—The crew of a Pease Air Force Base B-47 jet bomber accepted congratulatory today for two direct hits during a training mission. Air Force officials said it was unprecedented in modern jet bombing practice.

The bomber scored the double bullseye Monday at Springfield, Mass., during a seven-hour mission.

Direct hits in practice bombing are recorded electronically within an area 10 feet in diameter. The chances of getting two hits on a single mission are something like a golfer's chances of getting four holes in one during a round of golf, an Air Force spokesman said.

President's Brother Visiting in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Edward Kennedy, 28, the youngest brother of President-elect John F. Kennedy, is due now to visit Leopoldville after a session of touch-and-go diplomacy in Katanga Province.

When Edward Kennedy arrived in Elisabethville Monday with Democratic Sens. Frank Church of Idaho and Frank Moss of Utah, a government official of Katanga became angry over the question of recognition of its proclaimed independence.

The senators explained at a news conference that the new Washington administration will not recognize Katanga's independence until the confused Congo situation is straightened out. Until then only the legally constituted central Congo government in Leopoldville will be recognized, they added.

The three Americans are in Africa on a fact-finding tour for the president-elect. Edward Kennedy will report back to his brother personally.

City Budget of $282,014 Is Adopted

Hope's City Directors last night studied the proposed 1961 budget and finally adopted it. The budget calls for expenditures of $282,014.

This represents a decrease of $10,000 from the $292,000 budget adopted for 1960.

In other action the group turned an application to erect a gasoline service station across from the hospital over to the Planning Commission for study. However, there was no objection at the hearing.

Ike, Kennedy Join in Pledging U.S. to Seek Peace, Justice

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy and President Eisenhower joined in a declaration today that the United States will "continue to seek peace with justice in freedom for all peoples" as its world objective.

The Republican President and Democratic president-elect said in a joint statement that they had discussed "major problems of peace, security and freedom throughout the world" in a White House conference today lasting more than three hours.

The two men, who had unceremonious things to say about each other's policies in the presidential campaign, had what Kennedy described as a "cordial" meeting.

Kennedy was greeted by a military display and was met by Eisenhower at the doorstep when he arrived at the White House at 9 a. m. for an historic conference on the problems involved in the forthcoming change of national administration.

For about an hour and 50 minutes the two men talked alone in Eisenhower's office of the many problems that face the United States in the world today.

Then they went to the Cabinet room for an hour and 15 minutes of discussion with Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, and Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr.

After the meeting was over, James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, and Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, issued a statement in which they said that much of the discussion had centered on problems in the international area.

"They said specifically Eisenhower and Kennedy talked over the American balance of payments and the position of the American dollar. Secretary Anderson recently has been attempting to reduce the foreign drain on American dollars, and Eisenhower has asked to cut some outlays in the military field."

Hagerty and Salinger said certain aspects of the operation of the executive branch of the government, including those related to national security, as well as the manner in which White House staff machinery functions, were discussed by the two men.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy met with President Eisenhower at the White House today in a historic conference on the change in administration.

There were cheers from hundreds of spectators as a cream-colored sedan carrying the 43-year-old Democratic president-elect rolled through the White House gate promptly at 9 a. m.

On the north portion of the executive mansion, the 70-year-old Republican President was waiting to greet the man who will take over his duties Jan. 20.

Eisenhower stood beaming. As Kennedy walked up the steps, Eisenhower told him, "I'd have come down there but the photographers wouldn't let me do it."

Eisenhower wore a brown suit and matching hat. Kennedy, in a blue-striped suit, was hatless.

Eisenhower and Kennedy shook hands twice—the second time for the benefit of photographers, and Kennedy told the President: "It's good to be here."

A Marine Corps band played the "Stars and Stripes Forever" as the senator's car entered the grounds.

Key Problems Discussed in Air of Harmony

Rain General Over Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rain was general over most of Arkansas Monday, Monday night and today.

Storcy, Montgomery County, reported the heaviest fall — 4.10 inches during a 24-hour period.

The showers stopped in many sections this morning, and the U. S. Weather Bureau expected that they would stop elsewhere by this afternoon or this evening.

The heaviest rainfall was recorded generally in the western portion of the state. Oden received 2.65 inches and Mount Ida reported 2.75 inches.

Gilbert in north central Arkansas had 2.10 inches and El Dorado 2.23 inches.

Fight Rages Between Congo Group

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Col. Joseph Mobutu's soldiers fought in the Congo interior today against rebel forces seeking to avenge deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba's arrest.

The rebels came from Stanleyville — Oriental Province capital now held by elements faithful to Lumumba — and swept down on three villages in Equatorial Province to the west.

Equator is the home province of Mobutu, and its people are largely ardent supporters of his pro-Western regime.

A simmering feud continued between Mobutu and the United Nations. Officials of the Congolese Transport Corp. were reported threatening to stop carrying U.N. supplies on the railroad between Leopoldville and the seaport of Mobutu.

One official said United Nations would react vigorously against attempt to cut its only overland supply route.

Mobutu denied that Lumumba has been tortured and disgraced in prison. But he refused to release a report by two doctors who examined the ex-premier.

130 Cities in U. S. Over 100,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—There are now 130 cities in the United States with populations of 100,000 or more. Ten years ago there were 107.

Reporting on the basis of final figures from the April 1 census, the government said today 27 cities have been added during the past 10 years to those in the 100,000 class. At the same time, four cities lost enough population to drop out of the top rankings.

The Census Bureau said the cities which lost their places were Wilmington, Del., Reading, Pa., and Fall River and Somerville, Mass.

The 27 cities which have moved into the 100,000 class are:

Tucson, Ariz.; San Jose, Calif.; Albuquerque, N.M.; St. Petersburg, Fla.; Jackson, Miss.; Ann Arbor, Mich.; Fresno, Calif.; Lubbock, Tex.; Lincoln, Neb.; Madison, Wis.; Rockford, Ill.; Greensboro, N.C.; Topeka, Kan.; Glendale, Calif.; Beaumont, Tex.; Columbus, Ga.; Portsmouth, Va.; Newport News, Va.; Dearborn, Mich.; Hammond, Ind.; Winston-Salem, N.C.; Lansing, Mich.; Anaheim, Calif.; Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Wichita Falls, Tex.; Torrance, Calif.; and Santa Anna, Calif.

By coincidence, two of the above-100,000 cities were credited with exactly the same population and share the number 96 ranking. These, both with populations of 126,706, are Madison, Wis., and Rockford, Ill.

Slavs, Poles in Trade Pact

WARSAW, Poland (AP)—Poland and Yugoslavia have signed a trade pact providing for trade turnover during the years 1961-1965 of $320 million, the Polish news agency PAP said today. The trade between these two Communist nations since 1955 was reported to have totaled $220 million.

Attendance at New Orleans Schools Up

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Twenty-three white children went to classes in integrated William Frantz School today, spurring the worst of the usual jeers from pickets because police cleared a one-block area around the building.

While the gap in the segregation boycott widened, New Orleans legislators prepared to ask the Orleans Parish School Board to resign, the New Orleans States-Item reported.

Rep. Riley C. Triche, an administration house floor leader, said: "I don't see any way for the schools to be financed unless the school board steps aside."

Vandals dumped red paint on the porch of the home formerly occupied by the Rev. Lloyd Foreman, a rallying point in return-school moves.

Police questioned scores of persons and Supt. Joseph Giarrusso said he expected an arrest.

In the face of the move to get their resignations, members of the board today filed a suit asking four New Orleans banks to show cause why they should not honor school board checks.

The Louisiana Legislature has frozen state funds in New Orleans banks to keep the present school board from paying bills. The legal struggle between legislature and school board has kept banks from loaning $12 million to finance payrolls in coming months.

The boycott held firm at the city's other integrated school, McDonogh No. 19. Only three Negro first-grade girls entered classes there.

There still was no immediate way to tell if the lone Negro first-grade girl in William Frantz has white girls in her class. Eight of the 23 white children were first-graders, but if they were all boys the 6-year-old Negro girl would have no company except her teacher. Under the token integration in effect in New Orleans, integrated classes are separated by sex.

Women demonstrators, angered by the appearance of 17 white children, were seen outside the school.

Key Problems

Navy, Marine and Coast Guard
stood at attention.
The greeting ceremony took not
more than two minutes.
The President then escorted Kennedy into the mansion, and to his office in the west wing for the briefing on diplomatic, military and economic problems of the nation.

Walling inside were three key members of Eisenhower's Cabinet
— Secretary of State Christian A.
H. Hoover, Secretary of Defense
Thomas S. Gates Jr. and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B.
Alderson.

Clark Clifford, Washington attorney, represented Kennedy. Maj.
Gen. Wilton B. Parsons represented Eisenhower.

On the way to the conference,
Eisenhower introduced Kennedy to
J. B. West, chief White House usher, and to James Rowley, head of the White House Secret Service
detail.

The President then showed his successor the White House dispensary, the kitchen and the swimming pool.

James C. Hagerty, White House
press secretary, said Kennedy and Eisenhower had a brief talk alone
in the President's office, and that the talk with other officials was in the nearby Cabinet room.

No momentous decisions were expected to emerge at once from the discussions in the seclusion of the green-linked, oval presidential office, but the two men arranged to issue a joint statement after their meeting.

Kennedy flew up from a long weekend in Florida Monday night
to keep his appointment with Eisenhower. Tonight he moves on to New York for consultations
Wednesday with United Nations
officials and an expected announcement that Rep. Stewart L.
Udall, D-Ariz., will be his secretary of the interior.

Eisenhower asked three of his Cabinet, Secretary of State Christian A. H. Hoover, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. and
Secretary of the Treasury Robert
Alderson, to stand by in the Cabinet room for consultations.

"There was of course full understanding that under the Constitution the president of the United States maintains sole jurisdiction for the conduct of the government until his successor is inaugurated," the Kennedy-Eisenhower statement said.

"The meetings, however, were extremely informative in nature.
Thus, we feel that we were able
in our discussions to provide a better foundation for our representatives who are working on the necessary orderly transfer of executive responsibility from one administration to another. The progress to date on this work has been most satisfactory."

"We believe that through such orderly processes the continuity of government affairs will be assured and our people will continue to demonstrate that they are united in the nation's leadership toward peace."

Reaffirming the historic American position that this nation does not cover other peoples' territory
nor seek to dominate other na-

"The American people and their government have consistently sought to protect freedom and have tried to help people throughout the world better their standards of living. These national objectives will be vigorously pursued by the incoming administration."

"The government of the United States has and will continue to seek peace with justice in freedom
for all peoples."

From the White House, Kennedy went to his Georgetown home
to keep a series of engagements
and have lunch with Rep. William
J. Green, (D-Pa.) Philadelphia,
Democratic chairman.

Several hundred people were gathered on the sidewalks around the White House and across the street as Kennedy left. They waved at him as he went past.

districts than from six to four,"
Faubus said.

"If we should end up with five congressmen we could let Little Rock be the hub for one district and put the others out in the four corners of the state. But, trying to cut the state into four districts is going to be quite a task."

Faubus said Monday he was against having candidates for the House seats run at large.

On another matter Faubus said he has had numerous suggestions on a successor to Sen. J. William Fulbright if Fulbright should resign to accept a cabinet position.

Fulbright has been speculated on as a possible secretary of state under President-elect John F.
Kennedy.

Faubus said that among those he has been urged to appoint if Fulbright should give up his Senate seat are William J. Smith, Little Rock attorney and Faubus' legal adviser; Fred Pickens of Newport, an attorney; former Gov. Homer M. Adkins, U.S. Rep.
Dale Alford of Little Rock and State Sens. Roy L. Biales of Mena and Clifton Wade of Fayetteville. He said some other names, which he did not disclose, also had been mentioned.

Key Problems

Navy, Marine and Coast Guard
stood at attention.
The greeting ceremony took not
more than two minutes.
The President then escorted Kennedy into the mansion, and to his office in the west wing for the briefing on diplomatic, military and economic problems of the nation.

Walling inside were three key
members of Eisenhower's Cabinet
— Secretary of State Christian A.
H. Hoover, Secretary of Defense
Thomas S. Gates Jr. and Secretary of the Treasury Robert B.
Alderson.

Clark Clifford, Washington attorney, represented Kennedy. Maj.
Gen. Wilton B. Parsons represented Eisenhower.

On the way to the conference,
Eisenhower introduced Kennedy to
J. B. West, chief White House usher, and to James Rowley, head of the White House Secret Service
detail.

The President then showed his successor the White House dispensary, the kitchen and the swimming pool.

James C. Hagerty, White House
press secretary, said Kennedy and Eisenhower had a brief talk alone
in the President's office, and that the talk with other officials was in the nearby Cabinet room.

No momentous decisions were expected to emerge at once from
the discussions in the seclusion of the green-linked, oval presidential office, but the two men arranged
to issue a joint statement after
their meeting.

Kennedy flew up from a long
weekend in Florida Monday night
to keep his appointment with Eisenhower. Tonight he moves on to New York for consultations
Wednesday with United Nations
officials and an expected announcement that Rep. Stewart L.
Udall, D-Ariz., will be his secretary of the interior.

Eisenhower asked three of his Cabinet, Secretary of State Christian A. H. Hoover, Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates Jr. and
Secretary of the Treasury Robert
Alderson, to stand by in the Cabinet room for consultations.

"There was of course full understanding that under the Constitution the president of the United States maintains sole jurisdiction for the conduct of the government until his successor is inaugurated," the Kennedy-Eisenhower statement said.

"The meetings, however, were
extremely informative in nature.
Thus, we feel that we were able
in our discussions to provide a better foundation for our representatives who are working on the necessary orderly transfer of executive responsibility from one administration to another. The progress to date on this work has been most satisfactory."

"We believe that through such orderly processes the continuity of government affairs will be assured and our people will continue to demonstrate that they are united in the nation's leadership toward peace."

Reaffirming the historic American position that this nation does
not cover other peoples' territory
nor seek to dominate other na-

"The American people and their
government have consistently sought to protect freedom and
have tried to help people throughout the world better their standards of living. These national objectives will be vigorously pursued by the incoming administration."

"The government of the United States has and will continue to seek peace with justice in freedom
for all peoples."

From the White House, Kennedy went to his Georgetown home
to keep a series of engagements
and have lunch with Rep. William
J. Green, (D-Pa.) Philadelphia,
Democratic chairman.

Several hundred people were gathered on the sidewalks around
the White House and across the street as Kennedy left. They waved at him as he went past.

Faubus said.

Won't Get

Fight—Faubus

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov.
Orval E. Faubus said today he had no intention of involving himself in a controversy over congressional redistricting.

But he added "I would not hesitate to support a plan if I thought it was a good one."

The state will lose two of its four national House members as a result of a population decline reflected by the 1960 census.

Faubus said—as he had before —that he thought the Arkansas Legislature should go slow in reducing the congressional districts until it sees whether Congress enlarges the present House membership.

"It would be a lot simpler to reduce the state from six to five districts than from six to four,"

Faubus said.

"If we should end up with five
congressmen we could let Little Rock be the hub for one district
and put the others out in the four corners of the state. But, trying
to cut the state into four districts

Faubus said Monday he was

To make their debuts, Tunkuna Indian maidens of the Amazon must endure a hair-pulling ritual. Some girls weep as tufts of hair are jerked from their heads, but most show no sign of suffering.

The teen-ager who's going to have fun dancing should dress for the part. Many a girl has spent a miserable evening because her heels were too high, her dress all wrong, her hairdo too elaborate. This teen-ager (left) checks skirt length before she joins her date. She wears shoes with moderately high heels and a dress with full skirt so that she can move with ease. Her date (center) is also dressed for the part. As they stop at checkroom, she approves his well-worn jacket and slacks. His jacket is buttoned and he wears a tie, of course. His shoes are well-shined leather loafers. They're all set (right) to have fun. Both of them are neatly and comfortably dressed for the evening.

Navy No Solution to This Boy's Problem

By HELEN WORDEN-ERKINE

Dear Helen:

I am a boy of 17. Two months ago I married a girl secretly. We are both high school seniors. Neither of our parents know about our marriage. We were not planning to tell them till next spring.

I don't like not being able to live with my wife, but that cannot be remedied at the present because neither of us has any money. I am thinking about quitting school, joining the Navy and sending for my wife soon afterwards so we can live together.

What should I do? — J.

Dear J.: Why drag the Navy into the picture? In the first place, what makes you think it will let you send for your wife? In the second place, to sign up for that reason is hardly patriotic. And, in the third place, if you ever hope to be worthy of your country, your family, and yourself, you must finish whatever you start out to do. In your case, it's high school. Being a senior, you'll soon graduate. What then? By marrying at 17 you've gone from boy to man with all the accompanying responsibilities.

The first rung on the ladder of success is sincerity. Be straight forward. Tell your parents and in-laws about your marriage but, before you break the news, decide what you want to be in life. Talk this over with your wife. Formulate a plan, then speak up. Ten to one, your family and hers will do all they can to help you help yourselves.

Dear Helen

Our family troubles are with my grandmother. She came from the old country one year ago, is 65 and more trouble than you can believe.

She's learned only a few words of English and no new country ways but still tries to boss us. She starts arguments and we're all fighting.

I'm 13 and have a twin brother. I also have a brother eight and a sister three and a half. We've held a meeting about Grandma. None of us can figure out what to do. —Mixed-up.

Dear Mixed-up: You can't put old and young under the same roof and expect everybody to be happy. It just won't work. Your grandmother belongs to one generation, your father and mother to another, and you children to a third. Added to this is the fact that your grandmother, having been boss in her own home, expects to boss your mother's. The Chinese character for trouble is two women under the same roof.

But don't be too hard on Grandma. Remember she is old, in a strange land, and speaks little or no English. How would you feel in her place? Perhaps your father could find a home for her with people of her own generation. His first duty is to your mother. When he married, he promised to forsake all others for her. Your children should beg him, if he loves you, to remember this.

Dear Helen:

My parents are separated and I live with my grandmother and step-grandfather. I am not allowed to wear shorts or pedal pushers. I don't like shorts but don't think there is anything wrong with wearing pedalpushers, just so you don't have them too tight.

I am 14 and not even allowed to look at a boy, dance, or go to a party. I love my grandmother very much. She has done everything for me. Is she being too strict? If so, how can I tell her. After all, I am young but once. —Troubled.

Dear Troubled: I agree with your grandmother about shorts and pedalpushers, but more for neathetic than moral reasons. If girls could only see themselves as others see them in shorts or forehead pants, they wouldn't be caught wearing them at a dog fight. Unless a girl is a model for a match factory (and who wants to be that?), she just isn't built for these uncompromising pants. I'm all for a girl looking her prettiest at all times.

First, last and always, she should be easy on the eyes. She can't be in shorts or pedalpushers. They are all very well on the tennis court or beach, but that's purely for utilitarian and not neathetic reasons. Most girls wear them because sheeplike, they follow the crowd. Be different. Be pretty!

I can't agree with your grandmother, however, about dancing or parties. I think every girl and boy should know how to dance and be able to get along with others, which is what you learn at parties. But—the parties should be chaperoned.

Dear Helen:

I know this isn't a problem usually discussed in your column but I'm afraid of the dark and everything that comes with darkness. My husband works straight through from 12 midnight until eight in the morning. I go to bed at night afraid, listening, and with every little noise I jump. I have a hard time falling asleep and when I do, dream terrible dreams.

My nerves are on edge. I can't stand for night to come. I'm 22

Porkers Drop Old Miss, Add Missouri

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas will drop Mississippi from its 1962 football schedule and will meet Missouri in 1963.

A university spokesman said Monday that Ole Miss, a long-time Razorback opponent, will be off in 1962, but he indicated that the Rebel series will be resumed within a few years.

The spokesman declined comment on reports that Missouri would replace Mississippi in the schedule but Missouri athletic director Don Faurot, speaking in Memphis, said that the two teams would play Sept. 28, 1963, in Little Rock.

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles told the San Antonio, Tex., Quarterback Club Monday that competition with Ole Miss would be halted "for a few seasons" because of high feeling around the series. He cited fight which followed Ole Miss' 10-7 victory in Little Rock this season on a disputed last-second field goal.

The university spokesman said the decision has been made prior to the 1960 game, but that it "added fuel to the fire." He said the decision was no reflection on relations between the teams or schools, but that the game had become "something more than a football game."

Faurot, speaking to Missouri alumni in Memphis, said the Tigers would be happy to schedule the Razorbacks on a home-and-home basis, but that Arkansas commitments for games in both Little Rock and Fayetteville had posed a problem.

He said Missouri had filled its non-conference schedule after it became evident that further games with Arkansas could not be set up except at Little Rock.

The 1963 game is the only one the two teams have been able to schedule in the immediate future, Faurot added.

Hogs Play Vols in Aluminum Bowl

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas will play Alabama and Texas will face Tennessee in the first round of the two-day Aluminum Bowl Classic, a basketball festival, which opens here Dec. 21.

Arkansas will go against Tennessee and Texas will take on Alabama in the second night.

The event will not be a tournament since Texas and Arkansas will not play each other. Sponsors of the Aluminum Bowl Classic, new this year, say its future will depend on the response the event gets.

American Grid Loop Holds Draft

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The young American Football League flexed its muscles today and pointed to all the top college talent it had drafted.

Nine of the All-Americans, including the great Joe Bellino of Navy, were included in the 240 players selected in 30 rounds. The draft, started two weeks ago, was finished Monday night.

Bellino was the nineteenth choice of Boston. William H. Sullivan Jr., president of the Boston club, explained that while "Bellino is all they say he is—a great football player—we picked him down the list because he has probably four years to serve with the Navy. We had to draft those immediately available at the top."

The All-Americans drafted besides Bellino were Dan LaRose, Missouri end, taken by Boston; Mike Ditka, Pittsburgh end, selected by Houston; Ken Rice, Auburn tackle, drafted by Buffalo; Bob Lilly, Texas Christian tackle, selected by Dallas; Tom Brown, Minnesota guard, picked by New York; Jake Gibbs, Mississippi quarterback, taken by Houston; Ben Balme, Yale guard, drafted by Los Angeles; and Pervis Atkins, New Mexico State back, selected by Oakland.

All were high except Bellino and Balme, who was picked in the twenty-fourth round.

Atkins actually was drafted as a future last year. He doesn't finish college until this year.

Rebels Are Beaten by Ark. State

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas State College overcame a halftime lead by the Ole Miss Rebels to gain a 59-53 basketball victory last night.

John Gatling's field goal late in the game tied the score at 45-45 and Warren Moore hit another field goal to move the Indians into the lead.

"The Rebels were able to come back to a 53-53 tie, but never pulled into the lead again. It was the first loss in three games for Ole Miss."

Mississippi's Sterling Ainsworth led the scoring with 16 points. Gaylon Ward was high for the Indians with 14.

The two teams meet again next Monday night at Oxford, Miss. Mississippi plays the University of Arkansas Saturday night at Fayetteville, Ark.

Boston Drafts Wayne Harris

DALLAS (AP)—Arkansas Wayne Harris was drafted Monday by the Boston Patriots of the American Football League. Two other Arkansians also were picked by the pros.

Harris, twice named to the All-Southwest Conference team, this year was selected on the third Associated Press All-America team.

Porker halfback Jarrell Williams was picked by Denver and end Tot Bentley, an Arkansas State standout, was selected by New York.

Ohio State, Bradley Post Cage Wins

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer
Ohio State and Bradley, holding college basketball's two major titles, may be just as tough to push around this season as they were en route to the 1960 NCAA and NIT crowns, respectively.

But, poor Indiana—a team that may be better than either it can get during the season. A four-year stint in the NCAA's dog house precludes any post-season play.

This trio came up winning Monday night, but another preseason contender for national honors, Utah State, stumbled in its second game of a three-game road trip.

Ohio State shook off St. Louis and won going away 81-66 while Bradley led by Chet Walker's 50 points, belted the touring California Aggies of Davis, Calif., 102-65.

Detroit gave Utah State a dose of its own medicine, winning 70-68 in the final five seconds after the latter had beaten NYU with six seconds remaining last Saturday night.

North Carolina won its first, beating LSU 77-61. Michigan State had to sweat before getting by Bowling Green 70-67 and Minnesota had a rough time with Missouri before winning 60-56.

Vanderbilt beat Florida State, which upset Kentucky last Saturday, 75-55, while Iowa State upended Wisconsin 88-76.

Tennessee won its fourth straight, beating William & Mary 83-75 in overtime while Kansas rolled over Texas Tech 97-75.

Wichita beat Northwestern 78-60 and Notre Dame whipped small college champ Evansville, 83-68.

Colorado won its third straight, defeated New Mexico 74-65.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma City shaded Texas Christian 73-71 on Fred Moses' 60-foot, baseball-type throw in the final three seconds. Rice won over Florida 68-63 and Furman beat South Carolina 81-63.

In two other scoring sprees, Mississippi State romped over Union (Tenn.) 115-59 and Loyola of Chicago easily defeated Wayne State 110-76 as seven men hit double figures. Tulane defeated Louisiana College 84-64.

Arkansas State upset Mississippi 59-53. Texas came from behind to beat Trinity (Tex.) 71-59 and Tulsa clipped Texas Western 80-74.

Chargers and Oilers Need Only a Win

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer
The Houston Oilers and Los Angeles Chargers of the American Football League are within one game of clinching the Eastern and Western division titles today.

Houston missed a chance to wrap up the Eastern championship Sunday, when the Dallas Texans pulled a 24-0 upset.

With two games remaining, Houston and Los Angeles have won eight and lost four games and can get no worse than a tie for the championship. Los Angeles came from behind with four touchdowns Sunday to subdue the Oakland Raiders 41-17.

New York, holding second place in the Eastern division, boasted a 6-6 record after the Titans edged the Denver Broncos 30-27.

Dallas has a similar 6-6 won and lost record.

Playoff plans will be completed during the AFL meeting opening today at Dallas. The playoff will be during Christmas week.

In a fourth game Sunday, the Buffalo Bills broke a 14-14 half-time deadlock and went on to trim the Boston Patriots 38-14.

Dallas Coach Hank Stram had threatened $500 fines for poor play, and the Texans poured it on Houston for the Oilers' worst defeat of the season.

Second-string quarterback Hunt Ernis, subbing for Cotton Davidson, scored the first two touchdowns on one-yard bursts, and Ahner Haynes ran 13 yards for the other Dallas touchdown. Jack Spikes kicked a 22-yard field goal.

Oakland was leading Los Angeles 17-14 after three quarters, but the Chargers rushed across four touchdowns in the fourth period. Jack Kemp threw three touchdown passes, and scored two more on short runs in the fourth-period outburst. The scoring pass that put Los Angeles ahead was a 49-yard play from Kemp to Paul Lowe.

Al Dorow, New York quarterback, threw three touchdown passes to Art Powell, but Bill Sharkey's 15-yard field goal in

Arkansas Hogs to Platoon Okla. State

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks try tonight to do something they haven't been able to accomplish in two decades—win a basketball game in Gallagher Hall.

The Porkers have lost 14 straight games to veteran coach Hank Iba and the Oklahoma State University Cowboys in the Cowboy corral.

This year Arkansas has an excellent chance of breaking that string.

The Razorbacks used a one-two punch that featured a balanced scoring and four sharp sophomores to beat Missouri 84-75 Saturday night in their first game of the season.

The first unit is composed of veterans and the second group is made up of letterman John Blasingame and four sophs, including former Port Smith High star Tommy Boyer.

Four first-teamers got 11 points or more against Missouri. The second unit took the court with 11 minutes to play in the first half and stretched a nine-point Arkansas lead to 12 points by halftime.

The Cowboys will be tougher than Missouri. They won their first two games with UCLA and Texas Western. And they're always ready to ambush the Razorbacks. Arkansas beat OSU last year in Fayetteville, 54-50.

Arkansas opens its home season Thursday night in Fayetteville against North Texas State. Saturday night the Hogs go to Stillwater to take on Mississippi.

Porker coach Glen Rose will start the same five men tonight he started against Missouri. They are 6-6 Alan Morrison, 6-6 Ronnie Garner, 6-3 Clyde Rhoden, 6-1 Jerry Carlton and 6-3 Pat Foster.

Besides 6-6 Blasingame and 6-6 Boyer, the second unit includes 6-7 Bobby Anderson, 6-5 Larry Vest and 6-1 Jerry Rogers.

Oklahoma State will start with the same five men who played most of the game against UCLA. They are 6-4 Cecil Epperley, 6-3 David Miller, 6-7 Eddie Bunch, 6-0 Fritz Greer and 6-1 L. C. Gordon.

The fourth period spelled the difference. New York led 21-0 before Gene Mingo scored for Denver.

With 13½ minutes to go, New York led 30-14, but Denver's Frank Trippucka wasn't through. The Broncos traveled 67 yards with Mingo taking an 11-yard pass from Trippucka. Then Slip Doyle intercepted a Dorow pass, and Trippucka passed seven yards to Lionel Taylor for the final TD.

Two fumbles and an intercepted pass ruined Boston's chances. Richie Lucas, former Penn State star, scored a touchdown and passed 30 yards to Dan Chamberlain for another during Buffalo's second-half spurt.

Denver plays at Los Angeles Saturday, and on Sunday it will be Buffalo at Houston, New York at Oakland and Boston at Dallas.

Fullmer Sets Sights on Old Archie

By PATRICK MCNUITY

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer set his sights on "Old Archie" Moore's version of the light-heavyweight title after turning back Sugar Ray Robinson's gallant bid to recapture the 160-pound crown for the sixth time.

Robinson, described by his manager as "heartbroken" over Saturday night's draw with Fullmer, was considering hanging up his gloves.

"I've always wanted to try Moore on for size and now it looks as if I'll get my chance," said Fullmer.

Moore said, "After all, Fullmer should like to fight me. He'd be getting a shot at a REALLY old man."

Moore, Fullmer and Fullmer's manager, Marv Jensen, met at a party after the Utah billy goat battle with Robinson and tentatively agreed to terms.

Matchmaker George Parnassus, who staged the Fullmer-Robinson rubber match, left today for San Diego to finalize the deal with Moore, who insists on the champion's share of the gate.

Parnassus said he hopes to stage the Fullmer-Moore battle, if plans work out, in April outdoors in Memorial Coliseum.

For their savage war Saturday, Fullmer took 40 per cent and Robinson 30 per cent of the gross gate of $122,594 plus $100,000 for television.

Fullmer, relying on bull-like rushes to wear down Robinson, guarded his jaw with his gloves as if he had a jawful of jewels.

Robinson tried to steal the jewels with some nifty combinations. Several times he shook the charging champion and in the savage 11th round he popped Fullmer with two right hand loads that would have knocked the head off a marble statue. But Fullmer merely blinked and flurried back.

"The referee scored the fight for Robinson 11 to 4 under California's scoring system that gives the winner of a round one or more points up to five and the loser none. However, one judge voted for Fullmer 9-5 and the other judge called it a draw, 8-8."

Lawrence said the three refused to waive extradition to Ohio where they fled from the Waverly jail Wednesday. They were arrested in Anitlers, Okla. Saturday night.

Officers said they had been on the alert since a car, believed to have been stolen, was found wrecked on U.S. Highway 271 about 20 miles north of here Friday.

Arkansan One of Three Escapees

WILBURTON, Okla. (AP)—An Arkansan boy is one of the three escapees from a Waverly, Ohio, jail who were jailed here Sunday night for investigation of auto theft.

Sherriff Jim Lawrence identified the trio as Ted D. Elliott, 17, of Forrest City, Ark.; Ronald Edgar Martin, 20, Portsmouth, Ohio; and Hiram Tackett, 25, of Picketon, Ohio.

Arkansas State Police said Elliott escaped Aug. 23 from the Arl. jail at Houston, New York at Oakland and Boston at Dallas.

Boxing Club Deals Are Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Boxing Club paid $180,000 to two influential persons to help line up fighters for its televised boxing shows, a former IBC president testified.

But Truman K. Gibson rejected a suggestion Monday that the payments were a payoff to guarantee payment of promotion of the bouts. This payoff description was offered by John G. Bonomi, attorney conducting the hearings for the Senate Antitrust and

Favorites Defeated in College Play

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

One or two games don't make a college basketball season but as far as some of the favorites are concerned, the first weekend was far from encouraging.

Take Utah, one of the top choices to win the Skyline Conference title and wind up in the NCAA's post-season playoffs. The Utes have lost their first two games, and so has Purdue's supposedly talented Ballmer.

Also wearing the look of surprise today are Kentucky (1-1), NYU (1-1), Wake Forest (1-1) and Villanova all of whom lost Saturday night after winning openers earlier last week.

But still unshaken are Ohio State, the defending NCAA champ, and 1959 NIT winner Bradley. The Buckeyes play St. Louis tonight and face Army on Saturday. Bradley, idle last Saturday night along with Ohio State, plays the Cal Aggies and tough little Butler this week.

Purdue found out it can't depend entirely on big man Terry Dischinger, losing to Penn State 63-50 Saturday night after being belted Friday by Pitt.

Indiana, Big Ten co-favorite with Ohio State, has a 1-0 mark after an 80-53 victory over Indiana State. Things toughen quickly though for tonight the Hoosiers face Kansas State, then play Detroit Saturday. Kansas State, with games Friday and Saturday night in Los Angeles against UCLA and Southern Cal, respectively, had to fight before subbing Texas A&M 69-64.

Kansas plays St. John's in part of a doubleheader Friday night in New York's Madison Square Garden. The Redmen beat Army 69-49 Saturday. The Jayhawks also meet Texas Tech tonight after an opening 66-69 victory over Northwestern.

In the other half of that New York twinbill, Cincinnati, with a 2-0 mark, plays Selon Hall, listed as a sleeper among the East's independents. The Bearcats, now minus All America Oscar Robertson, face Miami (Ohio) Tuesday night.

SENTIMENTAL ME

by Janet Henry

The greatest treasures that I own
Are tucked inside my jewelry case;
A pendant with a precious stone,
A locket with a precious face,
A letter, folded carefully,
An emerald brooch, two high school rings,
A silver coin, a college "key,"
Some slightly tarnished Air Corps wings.
And, wrapped in tissue, underneath
Are two of Christy's baby teeth.

Stanleyville in Hands of Communists

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Henchmen of Patrice Lumumba clamped a Communist-style dictatorship on the city of Stanleyville today.

Angered at the capture of the deposed premier, they let loose their fury on whites trapped in his northeastern stronghold as a reprisal. Whites were barred from entering or leaving Oriental Province.

U.N. reports said numerous white residents of Stanleyville were being mistreated by the military police under control of the local government headed by Antoine Gizenga, vice premier in Lumumba's defunct Cabinet and a strong leftist.

Diplomats in Leopoldville were convinced that if Lumumba had succeeded in reaching Stanleyville, he would have split the Congo in such a way that a Korean-type war would have followed with the Communists on Lumumba's side. Lumumba, dismissed by President Joseph Kasavubu Sept. 5, escaped from his guarded residence in Leopoldville a week ago and headed for Stanleyville.

Press Asked to Take a Holiday

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Mayor deLoe's S. Morrison has appealed to news media to take a 3-day holiday from on-the-scene school integration coverage, beginning today.

The mayor said he thought demonstrators would not show up at two integrated schools if the press did not appear.

Morrison suggested a press pool where one reporter and one photographer would cover the school scene and share coverage with all others. Another suggestion was that police photographers supply all media with film and a report.

In a letter to news media representatives dated Friday, Morrison said the people who are demonstrating are principally the same ones; they number not over 200 persons, he said.

Morrison said newsmen have told him "if they (photographers and reporters) were not on the scene each day, the demonstrators would not be there."

"In many cases, these people go to the area to get themselves on television and hurry home for the afternoon and evening telecast to see the show," Morrison said.

Hogs Resume Grid Work for Cotton Bowl

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks go to work today on what promises to be a cold football field as they point toward their Jan. 2 Cotton Bowl date with the Duke Blue Devils.

Even more chilling than the mountain weather is the thought of what happened to Duke Saturday. The Devils lost to UCLA 27-6, and the beating should make them hopping mad in the Cotton Bowl.

Barring an unexpected practice injury, the hogs will be in full strength for the first time this season when they go against Duke. Coach Frank Broyles said over the weekend that fullback Joe Paul Alberty, injured much of the season, may not be quite ready to start full work today.

Alberty is expected to play against Duke.

The Razorbacks will work until Dec. 20, then take a Christmas break until Dec. 26, when they will fly to Houston for a few days of concentrated work in warm weather before the bowl game.

Broyles didn't get to watch the Duke-UCLA game on television because he was on a trip to Kansas City. However, coach Dixie White will fill him in on it. Duke will take a week's rest, the begin practice for the Cotton Bowl.

Woman Proves to Be Calmest

DENVER (AP)—A Denver policeman who tried to get to work on Denver's snowslippery streets Monday said a woman motorist was the calmest person he saw in the midst of vexing traffic snarls.

She was driving in the lane next to his and every time traffic was halted—which was often—she concentrated on some knitting. "She must have knitted a sweater before she got to work," the policeman said.

FACT

During November the earth travels the path of a meteor group known as the Leonids. Earth's attractive force pulls thousands of these tiny particles down to burn in the atmosphere. One of the most famous of these "meteor showers" occurred in 1833 when a single station counted over 250,000 of the "shooting stars" one November night.

CHIN IS PROP—To Kirk Douglas his chin is an acting tool as well as an asset in arguments. Cast and crew of his latest film, "Spartacus," took refuge when the angle of Kirk's chin warned them that, as producer and star, he was going to have HIS way in the filming.

concentrated on some knitting. "She must have knitted a sweater before she got to work," the policeman said.

17-Taken From Stricken Ship

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) - Coast Guardmen plucked 17 men from a stranded ship Sunday, but the 14 crewmen of the Francisco Morazan ran into new problems with U.S. immigration officials.

The icebreaker Mackinaw, which had been standing by since shortly after the 246-foot freighter hit a reef off South Manitou Island Tuesday night, took off the captain, 13 crewmen and three insurance agents.

The Mackinaw pulled into Grand Traverse Bay around midnight and anchored off shore. Immigration officials were expected today to check the crew.

The Coast Guard said it did not know when an attempt would be made to salvage the Liberian freighter and its 900 tons of general cargo. The Morazan, which ran aground in a storm, had pounded badly on the rocks and torn holes in the bottom.

The wife of the Greek captain, Eduardo Trivizas, was removed Thursday. She is expecting a child.

Many More Revolutions to Come

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The rash of demonstrations, political strikes, uprisings and pocket-sized revolutions which plagued Latin America in recent weeks can be viewed as just a series of fairly mild curtain raisers for what is yet to come.

Castroism—or as the Latins call it, Fidelism—is the front anti-Yankeeism—is the rallying cry and communism often is the directing force for a steadily increasing threat to the established regimes of Latin America.

In the past six weeks Latin America has seen an upheaval in El Salvador, short-lived revolutions in Nicaragua and Guatemala, strike threats in Chile, Brazil and other countries, an uprising in Argentina, rioting and violence against the government of Venezuela and violent unrest in Bolivia.

Not all these things stem from the same forces or causes, but all are useful to the Castro-Communist alliance in its effort to keep the whole continent nervous and off balance.

Rioting by Castro supporters broke out in El Salvador late in October, in advance of an army coup which ousted President Jose Maria Lemus. The final result is yet to be assessed. There may be considerable Castro influence in the Central American nation, but the ship's crew, which is made up of Spaniards, Cubans and Greeks, could be deported. He said the action was requested by Chicago immigration officials.

Such events led President Eisenhower to order the U.S. Navy and Air Force to patrol the Guatemalan and Nicaraguan coasts to prevent Castro-Communist invasions.

The recent uprising in Argentina was said to supporters of an exiled dictator Juan D. Peron, but the Peronistas have been wooed persistently both by the Castroites and the Communists. While the uprising has been put down for the time being, President Arturo Frondizi remains in danger.

Strong Castro and Communist influence is evident in the rioting against the Romulo Betancourt government of Venezuela and in the unrest in countries such as Bolivia and Colombia. In Chile, leftist labor forces are posing a rising threat to the nation's attempts at stability.

Castroism and communism feed on poverty, corruption within established regimes, frustration of a generation of university students unable to find outlets for their talents and a number of other factors. These include a deep-rooted sense of outrage among the young intellectuals at the history of U.S. activities in Latin America. Their feeling is that the North Americans exploited Latin America and hindered its development.

It has not yet seemed to be a dominating factor in the junta which has taken over.

Castro and Communist influence may have been strong in revolts which hit Guatemala and Nicaragua in mid-November.

In Guatemala, a group of military officers tried to overthrow President Miguel Ydigoras, but the government said it captured all but a handful of rebels.

In Nicaragua, troops loyal to President Luis Somoza routed a rebel force which the government said had both Castroite and Communist backing.

Such events led President Eisenhower to order the U.S. Navy and Air Force to patrol the Guatemalan and Nicaraguan coasts to prevent Castro-Communist invasions.

Chapter XXXII

In slow measured sentences she relayed the information she had received from Mr. Johnson, adding that the driver was back on his job, she had seen him that very afternoon. Cliff's face remained hard and cold.

"Mrs. Hamilton. Don't the White Plains police, witnesses, a judge and a jury make any impression on you? They found Dr. Whiting guilty. He's guilty. You just don't want to believe it. You've brooded on it until... until..."

"I'm not going crazy, Cliff," Janet said. "You really didn't intend to talk to him, did you?"

"No," he exploded. "I wash my hands of it. There's nothing I — or anyone else — can do," and he turned his back.

"Cliff," Gerry breathed in dismay. "You promised her."

Billy looked apprehensively at the three of them and moved closer to Gerry, putting a hand on her arm while he watched his father. Cliff saw the gesture and swung around. "Mrs. Hamilton," he said, the anger stronger in his voice, "I advise you to go home and get some rest. I'm busy on the force, and I'm busy here at home. And there's not one thing I can do."

"I see," Janet said. "I'm sorry I bothered you — at all."

Gerry stood up, her face flushed. "Cliff, how can you be so unfair? You promised. Why make a promise if you don't intend to keep it?" she said with open scorn.

A bright red crept over Cliff's olive skin. "Keep your nose out of this, Gerry."

"I won't," Gerry said. "I heard you make the promise. If you can't keep your word..."

Janet stood still, horrified at the scene she had precipitated, noticing tears well up in Billy's brown

Redistricting Up to State Politicians

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas politicians must solve two representation problems within the next few weeks.

To the legislature will fall the task of redistricting the state into four congressional districts instead of the present six. Up to the State Board of Apportionment is the job of changing the alignment of the state House of Representatives to reflect population changes shown in the 1960 federal census.

The deadline for the state reapportionment is Feb. 1, but Gov. Orval E. Faubus said Saturday, "We've got lots of time to think about it." The congressional districts must be redistricted prior to the 1962 election. Otherwise the congressional candidates would run at large.

Both jobs have their pitfalls. In the congressional case, some solution must be reached without offering any of the state's present six congressmen, all of whom have indicated they would like to remain in Congress.

The problem in state reapportionment is to arrive at some system to give equitable representation to the larger counties without depriving smaller counties of representation.

Lincoln Rep. G.D. Smith Jr. over the weekend proposed a congressional redistricting plan which he said would reflect the "community of interests" of the various sections of the state. Basically, this would call for one district covering all of south Arkansas with the northern two-thirds of the state divided into three districts—northwest, central and northeast.

Gallagher's plan would put Reps. Dale Alford of Little Rock and Wilbur D. Mills of Kensett together in the central district, and Reps. Oren Harris of El Dorado and W. F. Norrell of Monticello together in the southern district.

There has been speculation that Alford might run for governor in 1962, thus eliminating that conflict.

Several other redistricting proposals also would result in the same groupings so far as the present representatives are concerned.

There has been suggestions that redistricting be delayed so that the six congressmen would have to run at large. Then the state could be split to preserve the seats of the four winners. There also has been talk of a special session to deal only with redistricting.

Should the state Board of Apportionment fail to act by Feb. 1, the constitution provides that the Supreme Court is to reapportion the state should any citizen or taxpayer so demand. That happened after the 1950 census.

The problem in reapportionment is one of representation. In Pulaski County, for instance, each of its eight House members represents 30,373 persons. In neighboring Perry County, the state's smallest, one man represents only 4,027 persons.

Each county must have at least one representative, however. But at present the 15 largest counties with over half the state's population have a total of 40 representatives while the remaining 60 counties have the other 60.

A mathematical average of the entire House shows that each member represents a statistical 17,836 persons. Using that figure, Pulaski County would be entitled to 13 representatives. But how to give Pulaski County — or other more populous counties — additional representatives without depriving any county of its representative and still keep the House number of 100 members is the problem.

Japs to Form New Cabinet

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and his Cabinet resigned today as required by law. His re-election was delayed by a last-minute wrangle in the House of Representatives.

Ikeda had been expected to form a new Cabinet tonight and begin functioning as soon as he was formally invested by the emperor, but a storm blew up over the selection of a house speaker.

The election of a prime minister thus was put over until Tuesday. But pro-Western Ikeda's re-election seemed certain, since his Liberal-Democratic party won 300 of the 467 seats in the lower house of the Diet in the Nov. 20 election.

Under the law, a prime minister must resign after an election to let the house select the head of government.
